

INTERNSHIP - WEB VIDEO COORDINATOR

The 'Swatch TTR World Snowboard Tour,' or simply 'The TTR,' is without question the largest culmination of independent snowboard freestyle events acting under one common tour flag. We are offering 6 months internships for talented and motivated individuals in Innsbruck/Austria intended to provide you with a true learning and exciting team experience.

The work will involve all aspects of realizing production and video distribution in the video and online communication departments. This includes storage maintenance of footage, pre-editing footage for TV and web production. You will also edit own pieces for use in the online marketing department and distribute finished product within TTR's web video channel strategy, producing new ideas and realizing them within a wicked team. It is a great way to realize video production for a considerable audience on a state-of-the-art level, bring in yourself with own ideas and having backstage access to the world of snowboarding.

Candidates should have experience in movie production and preferably be studying for a degree in a related subject. Key skills we seek are:

- Movie production skills on MAC and Final Cut Pro
- Macromedia Flash
- attention to detail
- high fluency in English with good communication skills

In addition the following are desirable but not required:

- experience in camera handling (HD level)
- Adobe Photoshop and graphic production skills
- basic knowledge in HTML/XML/CSS
- other language skills

The internship starts latest in November and lasts during the whole winter season until the end of April. Although you will be working hard, some good powder runs on the mountains around Innsbruck and the attendance of a few TTR events on the tour are assured.

Please email your resume with a cover letter describing your interest in this position and why you would like to intern with us to andy@ttrworldtour.com.
